

Note: In case of Joint accounts where the mode of operation states that the account should be jointly operated by the account holders, the NACH mandate form too will have to be signed by all the joint holders.